

Dr. Jeanie Thies Invited to Join Newly Formed St. Louis Midwest Innocence Project Board

As a result of her past work in criminal justice reform efforts, and her recent involvement with efforts to launch a Midwest Innocence Project in St. Louis, Dr. Jeanie Thies, professor of Public Affairs and Administration and chair of the Master of Public Administration was recently invited to join the newly formed St. Louis Midwest Innocence Project Board.

Her role will be to assist with leadership and offer expertise and personal and professional connections to meet the board's priorities. Thies also serves in the capacity of coordinator for the Hammond Institute's Criminal Justice Reform Initiative.

